

Professional Training and Parent Education Workshops

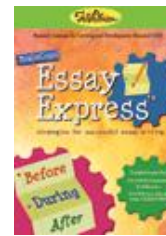

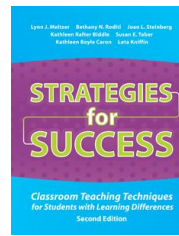

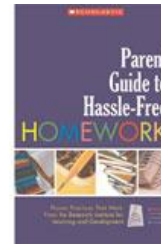

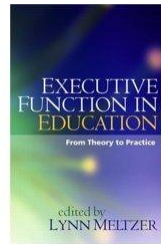

(partial listing)

- Executive Function Strategies, Effort & Persistence: The Pillars of Academic Success
- Executive Function Strategies in the Classroom
- Differentiated Instruction and Assessment
- The Strategic Math Classroom
- Understanding and Teaching Students with Non-verbal Learning Disabilities
  - Early Warning Signs for Children who will Struggle in School
  - Coping with School Stress: How to take out the worry
  - Reading and Writing Strategies: How to teach to diverse learning styles
  - Creating a Culture of Strategy Use in the Classroom
  - A Parent Guide to Executive-Function: Facts and Solutions

We will create a workshop to fit your needs.....

"The workshop was a resounding success! I have received positive feedback from teachers and have already seen strategies implemented."

Our Recent Publications and Software

Coming Soon:
Executive Function
in the Classroom

"I am so glad I found ILD! The Executive Function in Education book has saved our lives!"

Lynn J. Meltzer, Ph.D.

Director of Assessment & Research

Bethany N. Roditi, Ph.D.

Director of Education

For ILD staff, please check out our websites.

For more information, please contact :
Donna Kincaid, M. Ed.
Phone: 781.861.3711
Email: dkincaid@ildlex.org
Websites: www.ildlex.org and www.researchild.org

Professional Development for Teachers and Parents

Transforming the Lives of Students with Learning Differences!

Recent workshop locations:

- Tower School, Marblehead, MA
- Dana Hall School, Wellesley, MA
- Carroll School, Lincoln, MA
- New Hampton School, New Hampton, NH
- Dover-Sherborn Regional School District
- Acton Public Schools, Acton, MA
- Bedford High School, Bedford, MA
- I.C.A.N. Programme, Hamilton, Bermuda
- Annual Learning Differences Conference co-sponsored by ResearchILD and the Harvard Graduate School of Education

At ILD We Believe...

That professionals and parents need up-to-date information and specific educational strategies to help children who struggle with reading, writing, math, writing, attention and executive function processes.

ILD offers on-site workshops and presentations that target your organization's specific educational needs. Past workshop participants have found the training and discussions extremely valuable.

Pathways to Success for All Learners

"I was so impressed by the professionalism, expertise, and humor of the ILD presenters. They incorporated stories of "real students" and provided us with realistic solutions to many problems we face in our classrooms today."

"ILD staff helped me to think about the "what, why, and how" of the teaching process."

"I'm using everything that Kalyani Krishnan suggested for helping my child with executive function issues at home. I could listen to her for hours!"

Top 3 Reasons schools and parents choose ILD workshops:

- 1) ILD staff are internationally recognized for cutting edge research and best practices in education.

"Dr. Meltzer's talk was impressive! She combined research and practice to show us how teaching students how to learn is critical to their academic success."

- 2) ILD presenters anchor their talks in their clinical and educational expertise and knowledge of students with learning disabilities, ADHD, and executive function difficulties.

"Dr. Roditi modeled excellent teaching practices and presented great examples of math strategies I can use in my classroom!"

- 3) ILD presentations incorporate research-based strategies from ResearchILD's numerous publications and software.

"ILD's well respected and highly trained team designed a full day workshop on Executive Function that combined research with practical applications I could use the next day!"